2020-2021
Community Report
"We look forward to what opportunities the coming year will bring as we strive to be a force for good in Stanislaus County."

- Cindy Duenas, Executive Director
Letter from our Executive Director

It is with great pleasure and deep gratitude that I present the 2020-2021 Community Report. In spite of the ongoing challenges the pandemic presented this year, our staff, partners, and the broader community demonstrated adaptability, versatility, and a steadfast dedication to serving Stanislaus County youth and families. This report reflects the triumphs of the past year made possible through our many partnerships and the community’s resolve to rise above.

In 2019, we envisioned a Youth Navigation Center (YNC) that would engage youth, bring stability to their lives, and prepare them for a brighter future. This dream became a plan, and with the generous support of community members, we raised 1.3 million dollars of our 1.5 million dollar goal as part of a capital campaign to turn this dream into a reality. In November 2020, we broke ground at 2008 W. Briggsmore Avenue in Modesto, and the interior construction of the building continued over the course of nine months.

In July of 2021, we celebrated the Grand Opening of the YNC alongside those who helped make this project possible. This new facility houses the existing Hutton House Shelter and Pathways transitional housing services, along with a NEW low-barrier emergency shelter dedicated to youth ages 18-24. It also offers drop-in services, system navigation, opportunities for counseling, and connections to housing. We are excited to see lives changed at the YNC as we take the first step towards our goal of ending youth homelessness in Stanislaus County.

I would like to extend our thanks to each of the individuals, families, and organizations who have supported CHS and the YNC over the past year. As an agency, we look forward to what opportunities the coming year will bring as we strive to be a force for good in Stanislaus County.
Center for Human Services (CHS) is a local nonprofit that supports youth and families in Stanislaus County by providing access to prevention, education, counseling, treatment and shelter programs.

We help meet the basic human needs of people in our community every day. We began in 1970 as Head Rest, a drop-in center for youth struggling with drug abuse, with a single paid staff member and a handful of volunteers. Today we’ve grown into an agency with over 250 employees, serving every community in Stanislaus County.

We reflect our community

At Center for Human Services, we provide quality care and services that are accessible, equitable and responsive to diverse cultural, language, health literacy, and other communication needs.

Mission

We are changing lives and building futures through programs that strengthen and support youth and families.

Vision

To create a safe and thriving Stanislaus County community.
We change lives, build futures, and help families through quality programs and services for youth and families in Stanislaus County. Each year we serve nearly 10,000 children, individuals, and families through several core program areas.

We are proud to have over 250 employees working throughout Stanislaus County.
Providing Comfort in Crisis
“Our goal, and it’s an ambitious goal, is to end youth homelessness in Stanislaus County,” said Executive Director Cindy Duenas in describing Center for Human Services’ latest endeavor.

Center for Human Services (CHS) has been serving youth experiencing crisis, housing instability and/or homelessness since its inception over 50 years ago. Ambition has been a hallmark of our agency as we have expanded our reach and range of services over the years and continually aspired toward lofty goals for the betterment of the community. In order to address the challenge of youth homelessness, we took action by fundraising and building a Youth Navigation Center (YNC).

“Our goal is to create a system of care, not just services,” said Duenas.

“We want to find young people, engage them on the streets, and divert them from homelessness before they enter the system.”

Among the services offered at the 2008 W. Briggsmore Ave. location are the Hutton House and Pathways programs and a 24-bed low barrier shelter for youth ages 18-24. Youth ages 18-25 also have access to hot meals, showers, lockers, and clothing through the Telecare Drop-in Center and are located next door to mental health and substance use counseling.

The shelter is unique in that it will provide a safe place tailored to youth. “The shelters that we have in our community serve a good purpose, but are not youth-focused,” said Outreach Specialist Heather Antonini.

“I feel that the Youth Navigation Center is going to provide a safe and appropriate space for unsheltered youth.”

The process for bringing the YNC to life began with a capital campaign to raise 1.5 million dollars. The construction of the facility was made possible with the support of generous donors who share our passion for serving youth and families. Groundbreaking took place in November of 2020, and construction continued over a span of nine months. July 9th marked the grand opening event for the YNC as community members gathered to celebrate. Visitors enjoyed refreshments, toured the facility, and witnessed the ribbon-cutting ceremony. On October 5th, the YNC officially opened and began providing services for youth.
The formation of the YNC included insights from youth who have experienced homelessness themselves. This committee, called the Youth Advisory Group, met monthly throughout the construction of the YNC and discussed values such as equity and inclusivity that they sought to instill in the facility’s framework. The members believe in the potential of the YNC and will stay involved as it continues to develop.

“I hope it makes a difference in a lot of people’s lives and that it’s a beacon of hope for youth,” said Jupiter, a Youth Advisory Group member.

With services in full swing, the goal of ending youth homelessness is looking ever more attainable. The YNC will bring Stanislaus County one step closer to this goal and give youth increased opportunities for success.

“With their basic needs met, these youth can experience greater advancement and take steps toward healing and self-sufficiency,” said YNC Program Manager Jenn Nielsen.
